

The ILR Incentive Fund:

The purpose of the ILR Incentive Fund (IF) is to provide an additional reason for llama owners to exhibit their animals in the show arena. The ILR Incentive Fund pays cash dividends for Universal Award points earned by nominated llamas in the show arena.

- Help offset the cost of showing
- Make your llamas more marketable
- Add value to your animals

Llama Auction

Points earned will be tabulated from all ILR UAP open halter, performance, walking fleece, and adult showmanship classes (all UAP show arena classes except group and youth classes).

Herd Sires are nominated on an annual basis. Offspring of nominated herd sires are eligible for lifetime nominations.

Nomination fees are divided and paid annually. Payouts are based on the total number of point-earning llamas enrolled in the program and the number of points earned by those llamas in a given year. After the ILR retains 10% for administrative costs, the remaining nomination fees will be divided up:

- Herd Sire nominator receives 20%
- Offspring nominator receives 10%
- Offspring's recorded owner receives 70%.

ILR Universal Award Program and the ILR Incentive Fund Objectives:

1. To establish a strong rapport and bring good will to the greater llama community and locations where llamas are shared.
2. To showcase the Diversity and Versatility of Llamas.
3. To educate people about the International Llama Registry and the wonderful world of llamas.
