Sonja explained what the Governing Board is looking for from our committee. Since we started the review of our section of the ILR Fleece Guidelines we are nearly finished.

Review of page #55-#64

- Page #56 - 2 oz. Fleece Sample Entry Requirements – remove 2 b) #1-9 as they are already covered on the Fleece Entry Tag.
- Page #57 – Keep as is
- Page #58 – Sonja suggests we remove 2 a) but Joy and Ron point out that there may be new exhibitors that to be encouraged to review what their show placing history is to decide where they fall in experience. Committee decides 2 a) should remain as is.

Sonja asked Ron about the Spokane Show. Ron responded that they could not make it work.

Joy says that she just judged a show this past weekend that drew about 100 llamas from Georgia and surrounding areas. Show ran without issues. Everyone cooperated, wore their masks and social distanced. Good news!!

Ron stated that he has learned that the upcoming Gathering Show location did sustain damage from the recent storm. The Equestrian Arena took pretty good damage, but it is believed that repairs can be made in time to hold the Gathering Show at the end of September. So it is still a go at this point.

New Business

Sonja brought up idea of the Fleece Committee submitting another article for Kyle's Llama magazine due out next month. After a few minutes of discussion the committee settled on doing something about "how to store your fleece for the next year's show competition". Ron reminded everyone that a Shorn Fleece may be shown for 2 years. This means that this year's fleeces are eligible for next year's shows! Spread the word!

Send your ideas/thoughts of how you prep and store your shorn fleeces for the winter to Sonja by September 8, 2020 for her to compile for committee review/tweak at our September meeting. Betty volunteered to write the article for Kyle's magazine

The committee will finalize the ILR Fleece Guideline changes at the September meeting. Sonja will then submit our changes to the Governing Board.

Next ILR Fleece Committee Meeting to be Tuesday, September 22, 2020.

Motion to adjourn made by Betty Moe and 2nd by Gladys.

Meeting adjourned at 5:42 PST.
